

TO VOLUNTEER

Prospective Docents may:

- ~ visit the Bailey Home for a Sunday Tour
- ~ join a School Tour
- ~ call the number below and request a private tour
- ~ get more information on our Docent program by calling number below.

Docent Training:

Prospective Docents are given materials that are used in sharing the story of the Bailey family and the home. Our Docent Trainer works closely with all prospective Docents to make this a comfortable experience.

It is hoped that each Docent will be able to serve once or twice a month - for School Tours, Sunday Tours or a combination of both.

VOLUNTEER! You are needed to help us share our Victorian gem, the Bailey House, with our community.

A Volunteer is paid in smiles. This is our only, but rewarding, pay.

The Jonathan Bailey Home and Park were deeded to the City of Whittier on January 7, 1975. The Home is operated under the auspices of the Whittier Historical Society. The "Park" is maintained by the Whittier Park Dept. with special help from volunteers. This property has been placed in the National Register of Historic places by the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Docents...

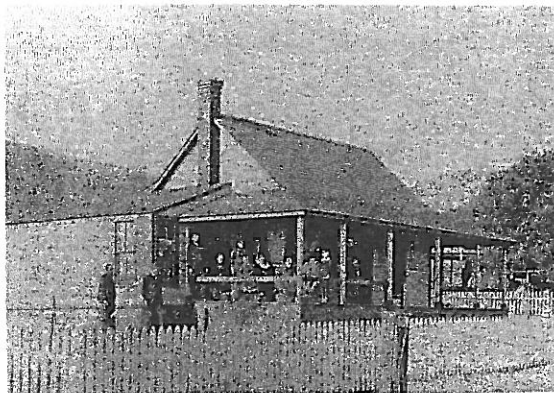

Share..

Bailey family lore from the 19th and 20th centuries. These interesting and sometimes humorous stories of the Bailey family as they lived and left their mark on Whittier put a human touch to history.

Tell...

of the several lives of the Bailey House as it evolved from a homestead to Whittier's gem of a Victorian cottage and its listing in the National Register of Historic Places.

Friends of the Bailey House, both Docents and Associates, lend their varied talents to the many tasks that keep our organization operating and enhance our special events.

Writers share our news with local papers and offer articles for the Newsletter of the Whittier Museum.

Artists make posters for special events and signs to be used around the Bailey home.

Decorators and those who sew help in replacing furnishings when necessary and see that others are repaired when possible.

Computer skills are needed for the publishing of the newsletter as well as special brochures and notices.

We invite you to join us.
